I feel fortunate to have been doing business with Thermo Design Insulation for nearly 30 years. My first dealings with TDI were in Edmonton and that relationship has continued for the past 25 years in Saskatchewan.

Throughout those years, I have always found TDI to be both a source of great technical expertise and an extremely well-managed contractor that deals in a most professional manner. The early years in my relationship with TDI were centered primarily on food processing projects and I learned a great deal from the TDI personnel as we worked together to deliver those projects in a Design-Build format. That willingness to work collaboratively has continued to this day in our execution of a much wider variety of projects. Throughout our years of working together, TDI has always been a great partner on whom I can rely to fulfill their promises. If an issue arises, I can be confident that TDI will work to resolve the matter in an efficient, fair manner.

I believe that TDI's capabilities as a top-tier contractor stems from the quality of people that they employ. Throughout these many years of working together, I've forged long-standing relationships with many of their staff and know that I can depend on all of them to provide excellent service. I would heartily recommend TDI as a firm that one can trust to perform at the highest level.

Sincerely,

Laird Ritchie, P.Eng.
